

The American Review of International Arbitration is a publication of the Center for International Arbitration and Litigation Law which is devoted to the study of laws relating to international arbitration and litigation throughout the world. To that end, it promotes and sponsors the publication of books, commentaries, articles, periodicals and conferences on these subjects. The American Review of International Arbitration is one of the Center's publications. Other publications sponsored by the Center are the eight volume Guides to International Arbitration and the World Arbitration Reporter. The Center also co-operates with institutions engaged in advocating and administering international arbitration and sponsors clerkships at those institutions.

The Director of the Center is Hans Smit, Stanley H. Fuld Professor of Law, Columbia University. Inquiries about the Center and its activities should be addressed to:
